Dear IJE's Respectful Authors

Subject: IJE Urgent message for papers scheduled in IJE current+ coming issues 2019 publications

I am pleased to inform you that your paper is scheduled for publication in IJE's coming issue. Please prepare your paper according to the attached template file; which is a sample published paper attached for your guideline. You need to observe and follow exactly the details of the prepared paper; REFERENCES, FIGURES, TABLES (in three lines). It is best to use the most recent references and eliminate old references. Please avoid any references cannot be access through internet. All references in the text must be cited by number in bracket e.g.: [1-4]. In addition, you welcome to cite any related IJE's published papers. We encourage authors to use "Endnote" soft-ware for citing and listing out all references. IJE editing staff would run English editing and make necessary changes based on Editor in Chief's point of view. We may eliminate those references cannot be traced through internet. Please avoid any abbreviation unless you define it for 1st time. The normal paper size for IJE is 6 journal pages. If any paper exceeded more than 6 journal pages, we shall take it off from production. That means, we never publish it, unless author pay the extra page charges. Otherwise, the author should reduce the size of his/her manuscript. The final revised, edited corrected of your manuscript (in word format 2003) should be sent to me by the corresponding authors only. Please send your final copy within 3 working days. Also, your paper's ID must be your file name and also state on the subject of email like: "IJE's urgent message" e.g.: OMS-18-1234. For additional information, you may check IJE web.

If you do not send your article within the period of designated time, your paper would be taken out from our system and then automatically would be rejected.
