Dear: Editorial Team

PalArch's Journal of Archeology of Egypt / Egyptology

Based on Minor Corrections from Reviewers, I have made the following revisions:

1. I have added several new theories, in the form of references to the last years (2019 and 2020).
2. Regarding grammatical errors, I have tried to correct them through the Grammarly program, because I am not an English linguist, and I am not an English speaker, because in our country English is only used at international meetings and scientific writings, especially international journals.
3. Regarding words in other languages, this cannot be avoided because this article discusses a lot of the local wisdom of the Bugis tribe, which has no equivalent in English, so it must be written in the original language and then explain the meaning.
4. Problems and motivations in this paper have been added to the Introduction section.
5. Conclusions have also been added.
6. Similarity indexed correction has also been carried out, and it has been less than 20%
7. APA style of referencing is required.
8. My article has been revised, I sent it back, and is an attachment to this email.

There was a question, regarding the submission of the Editorial Team that my article was accepted and will be published in Volume 17 Issue 04-2020, but after I entered the link PalArch's Journal of Archeology of Egypt / Egyptology, it has now been published in Vol. 17 No.8 (2020). Please provide an exact explanation.

Regarding payment, if the editor can't give a discount of 500 USD, I will still pay 550 USD, plan in a short time after I get an explanation about the certainty that my article will be published in what volume and issue, what month, and what year. Hopefully the editors will provide information about this soon. thanks.

Greetings,

Mithen Lullulangi

Dear: Editorial Team

> PalArch's Journal of Archeology of Egypt / Egyptology

Thank you for the email, more specifically because our article can be accepted for publication in your journal in Volume 18 Issue 3 - 2021.

As for minor revisions, we'll do them right away and will send them out when fixed.

Regarding the bill payment of USD 700, for publication fees, I ask that the cost is equalized to the cost of my article on PJAEE, 17 (4) (2020), amounting to USD 550. And if you agree, we will try to send it as soon as possible.

Greetings,

Mithen Lullulangi
