Dear: Editorial Office
Journal of Building Material Science
Bilingual Publishing Co.

Thank you for the email, specifically because I was given a dispensation for free APC. My writing is specifically for structural materials or those related to construction, currently nothing is ready. What we have is about traditional architecture, but there is also a section in the article that addresses structural issues. I am trying to send this article to you to see whether it can be considered for acceptance or not (attached). If it is acceptable I am grateful, but if it is not suitable I will make a special, it only takes about a week.

Greetings,

Dear Mr. Onesimus Sampebua',

We have reached a decision regarding your submission to the Journal of Building Material Science , " TONGKONAN KE'TE' KESU' AS A TRADITIONAL ARCHITECTURAL TOURIST ATTRACTION IN TANA TORAJA ".

Our decision is: Revisions Required

Please find the review comments as follows. when the revision is done, please back it through this email. If possible, we hope to receive the revised version within 7 days. (Note: To ensure the quality of the paper, Please check and correct grammar and spelling mistakes carefully and thoroughly.)

Besides, we would like to kindly remind you that do not forget to highlight the changes that you made and attach a cover letter when submitting the revised paper. Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

Reviewer A:

Overall assessment: the structure of the paper must improve, it just offers a description of the traditional house of Toraja, but does not submit any research method neither results of interviews. Overall I believe that the topic is sound, but the paper must be highly modified or completed to be a research paper.

1. Abstract: "the data analysis technique used is descriptive, consisting of four activity flow, that is data selection, data presentation, analyzing and conclusions". All these steps are scarcely developed.

2. English grammar and writing must be reviewed

3. About references. The references must be reviewed. None of them corresponds to documents published in the last 5 years. I recommend more references (especially corresponding to documents generated in the last 5 years). A number of references between 35 and 45 is a good number.

4. About figures and tables. They are clear and complete.

Dear: Editorial Office

Thank you for the email, and also regarding the correction from the reviewer on our article entitled: TONGKONAN KE'TE 'KESU' AS A TRADITIONAL ARCHITECTURAL TOURIST ATTRACTION IN TANA TORAJA. We have tried to improve the article based on the instructions, but we have experienced problems especially adding references in the last 5 years, because not many people have written about this group of traditional houses, so we have difficulty getting them. Then regarding English Grammar, we apologize because we are not everyday English speakers, so our abilities are very limited. So we only use the Grammarly program to correct the English Grammar, hopefully it can meet the requirements. Then our data analysis method has improved according to the type of research.
