Dear Presenters of ICAMR

We have attached the conference schedule, and we would like to remind all presenters that you are given exactly 10 minutes for your presentation. This includes setting up of presentation material and Q&A session. Please kindly take note of the following important information:

- All presenters must attend the opening ceremony (the schedule has been attached)
- Time limit will be strictly implemented to assure that all presentations will be delivered as scheduled.
- If you must, you may choose to use your own laptop for your presentation (but this may take time to set up reducing your presentation time).
- Please assure that everything is ready and files are backed up on flash disks or hard drives before you proceed to your presentation.
- Schedule of parallel sessions (including Abstracts and Authors) can be seen on the day.

Please respond to this e-mail for any concern or query.

Best Regards
