to me

Dear Mustari Bosra, et al.

We have reached a decision regarding your submission to Rupkatha Journal on Interdisciplinary Studies in Humanities, " Aspects and Dimensions in Collaborative Approach: To Improve Research Discovery in Digital Arts and Digital Humanities".

Our decision is: Revisions Required

Reviewer A:

Dear author(s),

Reviewers have given their comments on your paper.

Please do the following when you resubmit your revised version:

- All corrections as per the reviewers' comments and prepare a table / response letter showing corrections done. Your corrections will not be accepted in the absence of this response letter / table.
- All authors' names, emails and affiliations checked and corrected
- Add ORCID IDs of all authors

Please ensure the submission of the revision within 15 days of receiving this mail only in the online system. Please do not send your revision by email. If your revision is found satisfactory, an acceptance letter will be issued for your manuscript. You will be required to pay the APC (that you have agreed upon) within one week after receiving the acceptance letter.

Please be noted that at this stage you cannot withdraw the paper. In case you find it difficult to do the corrections, please write to the editor (editor@rupkatha.com) to take the assistance of the writing team at nominal cost.

Your paper entitled Aspects and Dimensions in Collaborative Approach: To Improve Research Discovery in Digital Arts and Digital Humanities is a good topic and the writer has made an elaborate view of the subject. Regarding the aim and objective of this study, there is a clarity as the author consistently maintains that this study aimed to determine how effective it would be if Research Discovery in Digital Arts and Digital Humanities can be combined to support Aspects and Dimensions in Collaborative Approach in Higher Education. However, one discrepancy is seen in this study as the author claims: "The hypothesis is that their important aspects which may have a major impact on the implementation of Digital Arts and Digital Humanities." But the authors do not explain how this would be achieved. The methodology section does not explain the research design or the research procedure that should tell the readers about (Digital Arts and Digital Humanities in higher education) can be brought in line and in harmony through research collaboration. Please clarify.

In addition, the following is a checklist to make the changes in your paper

1. Abstract: divide it into Purpose, Methodology, Findings and Implications for Research and Practice, adding recommendations, limitations, in the end.
2. Introduction: should contain a brief background information about the topic Please check if you can add a statement about rationale, purpose and research objectives along with the eligibility criteria. You may also state that there exists a research/ literature gap. You may also add a similar statement at the end of literature review section.
3. Methodology: The journal format requires the method section to contain Research design, sampling and population, instrument and procedure and Data analysis methods. Please present your data accordingly.
4. Results and Discussion: This is ok. Discussion section needs brief references to previous researches.
5. Conclusion, Recommendations and Implications. It must include a brief conclusion of the research completed, limitations, recommendations for future research and implications for research and practice.

There are a few language, grammar and syntax errors; several sentences are short, fragmented and give incomplete meaning, not fit for a good research paper Please have it checked by a language expert before you resubmit.

Decision: Revision required

Reviewer 2

Your paper has a wide range of information and findings but it fails to create a good impact on the readers nor motivates them to read more about the scale or the research problems/ arguments raised by you. This may be because of several reasons:

1. First the introduction part lacks the rationale of the research (as there is no problem statement on which the research was based). The ambiguity is further created by talking about best practices with these three variables and not explaining how it will be achieved.
2. In Lit Review section you talk about only theoretical studies which is not needed. You need to insert a few empirical studies on the topic of your research which can help support your argument. The definition and theoretical part can be moved to introduction section.
3. Besides, the paper requires minor adjustments to follow the journal templates such as methodology section needs to be prepared in a sequential, step, clearly stating the research design, sampling, instruments and research procedure and data analysis methods. Results section should contain only the outcomes and need a description of tables. Discussion section must contain summary of main results and brief references to previous researches. Conclusion, Recommendations and Implications section must include a brief conclusion of the research completed, limitations, recommendations for future research and implications for research and practice.

The paper, however, contributes some new information. It may be 'accepted' after making changes, as suggested.

Decision: Revision required Recommendation: Revisions Required
