Dear Production and Editorial team,

I am writing regarding my manuscript (<https://www.emerald.com/insight/content/doi/10.1108/GM-07-2022-0243/full/html>), which has been published in the Gender in Management Journal. Currently, I am documenting my recent publications as they will be reviewed by the minister of education in my country. After the initial review, they found my article in the Gender in Management Journal did not have volume and issue number, although it was published online with DOI.

Could you please kindly provide details on how long it takes to assign volume and issue and the reason why they have not been assigned to this article? I would appreciate your advice on the exact date on which the article will have the volume and issue. For your record, this evaluation of the publications is important for my career, and I would appreciate your help. Your help is much appreciated. Please let me know if any further information is required or if there is anything we should do to expedite the assignment of volume and issue.

Regards,

Dr Syamsidah

Dear Dr. Syamsidah

We would like to remind our author community of the need to be vigilant to the ever-present threat of phishing: the fraudulent practice of sending emails or other messages purporting to be from reputable companies, in an effort to extract either information or money from the recipient.

If you are unsure about any email communication you receive from us, we would like to remind you that Emerald Publishing will never ask for urgent or advance payment to submit a paper in an Emerald journal*. If you receive an email with this request, it will not be from Emerald Publishing, and we ask that you DO NOT reply to the sender but forward the email to BTSupport@emerald.com.

We do not contact authors to pay to publish via text, WhatsApp, Telegram, WeChat or other messaging platforms. We also do not accept submissions via third party agents or advertise payment for articles on third party websites.

If you are uncertain about any communications that claim to be from Emerald Publishing, you can let us know at BTSupport@emerald.com.

Thank you for your help in this matter.

Yours sincerely,
